

Australian National University

Development of a coherent US strategy for the future: Obstacles to overcome

Thursday 9 August 2012 6.30pm-8pm, refreshments served from 6pm

Admiral (Retired) Dennis C Blair Former US Director of National Intelligence

Manning Clarke Lecture Theatre 2 Building 26a, Union Court, ANU

How the US manages its strategic environment is fundamental for itself and nations globally.

In this address, Admiral (Retired) Dennis C Blair will address important questions about the future of US strategy, its priorities and challenges in implementing them.

Admiral Blair is currently a member of the Energy Security Leadership Council of Securing America's Future Energy and on the boards of a number of security-related think-tanks. His past appointments at the most senior levels of the US Government include Director of National Intelligence (2009-10) and Commander Pacific Command (1999-2002). During his 34-year Navy career, Admiral Blair served on guided missile destroyers and commanded the Kitty Hawk Battle Group. He is a graduate of the US Naval Academy and a Rhodes Scholar.

Admiral Blair was honoured as an officer in the Order of Australia in 2002.

Co-hosted by

National Security College
and
Strategic & Defence
Studies Centre
ANU College of Asia & the Pacific

Registration required

RSVP by 7 August 2012

E national.security.college@anu.edu.au T 02 6125 6480

This lecture is free and open to the public

ANU Public Lecture Series information:

anu.edu.au/publiclectures

The National Security College is a joint initiative of the Commonwealth Government & ANU

CRICOS# 00120C

PUBLIC SEMINAR